POLICE STATION SALE

Council Named As Respondents In Legal Action

A legal missile aimed at preventing a sale, last night, of the present police station site was directed at a nonexistent target it was revealed when the city council learned that no bids had been received for the two-lot property at Mission and Seventh.

However, amidst a trail of verbal sputterings this missile, an alternative writ of mandate against the city council petitioned by Barnett J. Segal, proceeded towards a hearing before a Monterey County Superior Court judge on June 17.

Other legal restraint, the council was informed, was being sought from the state legislature by Councilman Gunnar Norberg.

Election Results

According to election officials, Carmel area voters generally approved the Votomatic machines used for the first time in Tuesday's primary election. Write-in votes posed the worst problem. Voters, in some instances, did not write in the full name of a candidate, or wrote incorrect first names. Such write-in votes had to be invalidated.

Results of the voting were: Burt Talcott (R) will oppose Gerald Barron (D) in the 12th Congressional District in September; Don-

Editor's Column

Because of the resignation of Medill Bair, members of the governing board of the Carmel Unified School District are faced with difficult decisions in selecting a new superintendent for the district.

For the past two years, instruction in the district has been moving towards an ungraded program. Will a successor to Mr. Bair be selected with continuation of this program in mind?

One of the most frequently heard criticisms of the school system, for two years, has been the superintendent's salary, $22,000 a year. Will, therefore, a less highly paid administrator be sought?

The Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association has stated that it will oppose ANY rise in the school tax rate. Will this situation force consideration only of applicants willing to work under this handicap?

The citizens committee reports on curriculum evidenced dissatisfaction with the scope of education now being offered in Carmel schools, lack of adequate libraries, deteriorating facilities. Will the board be able to find a new superintendent who will accept these conditions?

The defeat of the override tax in March can well be interpreted as lack of faith in the school board. Will the board, then, be able to choose a candidate for Mr. Bair's position with any assurance that its selection will be supported by the community?

So, with the education program in a transitional phase; opposition

An evening of ballet, which will be a benefit program for the Big Sur Grange will be presented tomorrow at 8:00 p.m., at the Big Sur Grange Hall. The dancing group, all members of Lilli Selvig's ballet classes, range in ages from three and one-half years upward. The program will include 30 of these young and talented dancers. Eve Ross has given her time and talent to design and fabricate costumes. Harry Dick Ross and other artists of the community have made posters and other art work to publicize the event.

IN MARINES

Richard Allen, Jr. son of Mrs. LaVerne Allen of Coast Gallery Big Sur, enlisted last month for two years service with the United States Marines. Private Allen is with the 3rd Marine Recruit Training Depot in San Diego and will graduate from "boot camp" later this month. Mrs. Allen will go to San Diego for the graduation ceremonies. Before his enlistment he was associated with the business enterprise of Richard Clements, Jr. at Timbercove in Mendocino County.

NEW MANAGERS AT POST'S

Post's Rancho Sierra Mar Campground has new managers. The campground, with its over 50 campsites, situated on various levels within a redwood grove, has for years been operated by its owner-developer, Joseph William Post. Mr. Post, senior member of the Post family, owner of the vast ranch in Big Sur bearing their name is happy to have someone "take over the campground during the busy summer season," to enable him to have more time to devote to other activities such as planting and tending the abundant and beautiful flower gardens that surround the ranch's many buildings. New campground managers are Ronald and Mary Marcus. The Marcuses with their two little sons, Christopher and Michael, will maintain their home and office at the campground entrance during the summer months. Mr. and Mrs. Marcus have lived in Big Sur for the past three years. Mary is a graduate of the College of Marin and her former home was in Greenbrae. Ronald, an English major, is an Oregonian. His mother lives in Brookings, Oregon, and Ronald was a former student at State College in Portland.

Gordon Gulley

Funeral services for Milton Gordon Gulley, a resident of Carmel for the past four years, were held Tuesday at the Church of the Wayfarer, with the Reverend Alexander C. Bryans officiating. Mr. Gulley, 69, died Saturday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

He was born in Clayton, Indiana, on February 25, 1897. Retired, he had been a geologist for the Gulf Oil Corporation and was a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the American Petroleum Institute.

Mr. Gulley was chairman of the official board of the Church of the Wayfarer. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his wife, Mabel; a daughter, Mrs. Lorna G. Stewart of Houston, Texas; a son, William D. Gulley of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and four grandchildren.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mr. Gulley may do so to the American Red Cross, Monterey Bay Chapter, or to Community Hospital.

50 Years Ago in Carmel

—THIS WEEK—

MASS MEETING TO DISCUSS WATER SUPPLY

"Carmel with an assessed property evaluation of $380,000 is without sufficient fire protection.

"True, we have two good chemical engines, which on several occasions have proved their worth for small fires. We also have a first class legally organized fire-fighting force of over 40 men. These are good but not adequate. We also have a Board of Fire Commissioners.

"For several years, knowing of the lack of sufficient water supply and realizing the ever present danger of a devastating conflagration, the people of Carmel have been very patient. Every effort, heretofore, made to secure a better water service has resulted in nothing but promises and excuses.

"Two boards of fire commissioners have gone out of office because of failure to induce the water corporation to provide sufficient water. The present board is up against the same thing.

"To exact some definite action from the water concern—either a point blank refusal to do something or assurances of an adequate and permanent service—the Carmel Fire Department at its meeting last week decided to put the matter to the whole community.

"To that end, a mass meeting will be held Friday night at Curtis Park on Ocean Avenue. Every resident should attend. It may be that some plan will develop to safeguard us against fire."

The assessed property evaluation of Carmel has increased from $380,000 in 1916 to $18,238,225 in 1965, and is expected to be larger when 1966 figures are available. In addition to the secured roll evaluation, Carmel's unsecured roll in 1965 was $1,575,780 (fixtures, furniture, etc.). Total assessed valuation last year, therefore, was $19,814,005.

COLUMBIA PARK BOYS ARE COMING

This headline in the Pine Cone 50 years ago this week was followed by an announcement that the over 100 boys from San Francisco expected for their annual encampment in Carmel would "make a big demand for pies and other edibles dear to the stomachs of boys." Carmel residents were advised to make "adequate provision" for this hunger.

LIBRARY POPULAR

"Owing to the increase in the number of persons who visit the local library during the summer months, the trustees have appointed an assistant to Mrs. Sydney Yard. Miss Janet Prentiss assumed her duties last Thursday."

This was another news item in the Pine Cone 50 years ago this week. The library at that time was situated on the site of the present Harrison Memorial Library in a little shingled cottage operated by the Carmel Library Association established in 1906. The Carmel Development Company donated the building and the use of the lot on which it stood.

CASTS SELECTED

The casts for two plays were announced 50 years ago this week. The summer presentations at the Forest Theater were to be "Yolanda of Cyprus" and "The Piper".

VICTROLA FUND

A $5 gift from the graduating class at Sunset School swelled the Victrola Fund for the school to $38.75. The donation was made because the Class of 1916 desired to leave some "reminder of their love" for Sunset.

DRAMATIC RECITAL

Announced for June 16, was a dramatic reading by Walter Butler O'Connell, A.M., at the Arts and Crafts Club Hall situated where the Circle Theatre now stands. Mr. O'Connell was "well known to Carmel literary circles."

SUMMER ART SCHOOL

"Registrations for attendance at the Carmel Summer School of Art have been received from, besides California, the following states: Montana, Indiana, Michigan, Texas and Arizona. Most every mail brings inquiries from other states.

From all indications the ten weeks' session, beginning July 5, will be a very full and interesting one," observed William L. Overstreet, editor of the Pine Cone.

PIANO AND SONG RECITAL

Fifty years ago last night, Miss A. Liberty, soprano, and Henry Cowell, composer-pianist, gave a recital at the Arts and Crafts Club Hall. Admission was 25 cents.

PINE NEEDLES

"Artist William Ritschel has arrived from New York . . . The Rendtorff family got in Saturday from Palo Alto. Miss Gertrude is in good health again . . . Prof. F. E. Lloyd who has been away for several weeks has rejoined his family . . . Prof. William Carey Jones of Berkeley is here for fishing and contemplation . . . The happy Hopper family are comfortably settled in White Cedars."

Toby Edson Out of Navy

Toby Edson, with U. S. Naval service and two tours of duty off Viet Nam behind him, is again a civilian, home to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. Ingram "Chum" Edson and his grandfather, Captain E. T. Hoopes (S. C.), USN Ret. He won't be stationary very long, however. Toby is looking forward to a year of travel, beginning in September on a ship bound for New Zealand and Australia. He'll debark at Piraeus, Greece, to see something of the European continent, returning eventually to enter law school.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, Toby went from kindergarten through high school in Carmel, as did his sister, Carey (Mrs. John Olson). Carey and her husband, a teacher, have been San Francisco Bay area residents since their marriage here in 1962. Now, with their daughter, Svea, who is not quite a year old, the Olsens are moving to Eugene, Oregon, where John will teach at the University of Oregon.

Top Netter At Colorado State

Pete Steffen has been voted the outstanding tennis player at Colorado State University for the 1966 season and has a new trophy to add to his collection. Pete, who graduated from Carmel High School last year, played the number one singles position all Spring for the Rams and did well against more experienced opponents. According to the CSU sports editor, Pete is expected to develop into one of the best netters in the university's history.

Scholarship For James Bow

James Bow of Carmel has been selected as one of five northern California winners of $350 scholarships awarded by the Federal Personnel Council of Northern California and the Federal Executive Board of San Francisco. The graduating Monterey High School senior is the son of John Bow, supervisor of the Chinese-Mandarin department of the Defense Language Institute, and Mrs. Bow of Carmel. Jim plans to attend the University of California at Los Angeles, majoring either in astronomy or physics.

The scholarship winners, selected from a field of 164 applicants, and their parents were honored May 26 at a luncheon on Treasure Island.

To Attend Girl's State

Roberta Goulding, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Goulding of Carmel, will represent Carmel at the annual Girl's State assembly on June 20 at UC Davis. She will join over 500 other California girls in an eight-day session of experiments in government, learning more about how their city, country and state governments are run.

Jinks Rode A Champ

Jinks Snow, graduating Carmel High School senior, took the championship for the junior working hunter class a week ago in a two-day event of the Mount Diablo Concord Trail and Riding Club. The young equestrienne, who rode Solomon, owned by Mrs. Frank Bottero of Carmel Highlands, also took first place in cross-country jumping.

Jinks is the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel (USA) Harold Snow, currently serving overseas, and Mrs. Snow, who is the cheerful hostess for Welcome Wagon in the community.

The Carns Are Here To Stay

"We're in the midst of unpacking, and this time we're here to stay," was the emphatic response of Mrs. Edwin H. J. Carns, wife of the former commanding general of Fort Ord. Since Major General Carns (USA Ret) turned over his command a year ago, the couple have been East, in Palo Alto and most recently in Carmel Valley. Now, says Mrs. Carns, they are delighted to be back on the Peninsula and in the new house they have bought in the Country Club.

Recent news on the family front is that one of their sons, Lieutenant Edwin H. J. Carns Jr., who has been a military advisor in Viet Nam since last September, has been assigned to Headquarters Company of the 503d Infantry's 2nd Battalion. Lieutenant Carns, his parents hope, will be back in the U. S. in September.

Hospitality For Southerners

Two sisters from the South were honored Friday night by Mrs. Carl Walton of Carmel at a party which began at The Sands for cocktails and a fashion show followed by a horse-drawn carriage ride through the village to Crichton House for dinner. The special guests were Mrs. George Simpson of Mobile, Alabama, and Mrs. Edward Enright, now of Los Angeles.

STUDENT OF THE YEAR
NANCY THOMPSON

Nancy Thompson, a member of the Class of 1966, holds the award she received for being the outstanding student of the year at Carmel High School.

Alex 'Ambassador Of Friendship'

As of this week, Carmel can claim another ambassador among its residents. She is Alexandra M. Robison, who will attend the University of Madrid next Fall as "Junior Ambassador of Friendship Between Spain and the United States," a title accorded her through the offices of Spanish Consul General Antonio Vidal-Gabas of San Francisco. Alex, who graduates Saturday from the University of Santa Clara, has been awarded a Spanish Government Scholarship, a grant equivalent to a Fulbright scholarship in the United States and unusual, indeed, for an American student to receive.

Her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Shelburn Robison of Carmel, will be present at the Saturday ceremonies when the graduate receives the award from the head of the language department of the university.

Alex attended Santa Catalina School for Girls before enrolling at Santa Clara. During her junior year, she was one of a group of students who attended the New York University Extension at the University of Madrid. There, in courses given in Spanish, she studied all facets of Spanish culture, living with a Madrid family. So, when she begins her advanced studies in September, Alex will be no stranger to Spain but a true goodwill ambassador.

On the lighter side, Colonel and Mrs. Robison and their daughter are holding open house this evening for members of Alex's graduating class before their senior ball, which they have chosen to hold at the Beach Club in Pebble Beach.

Affiliated Pair Feted

In honor of Michael Cook and Linda Sue Hoffland, who will be married in West Covina on June 18, Mr. and Mrs. John Gates entertained at a wedding shower Saturday at their home on Flanders Drive. Guests invited to wish the young couple future happiness were Michael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allman Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Dubois "Nick" Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wasserman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hannon, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bruggeman, Mrs. Allen Knight and her daughter, Allene Weiner, Roger Fremier and Noel Preston.

Michael and his fiancée, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corland C. Hoffland of West Covina, will graduate from the University of California at Berkeley on Saturday. The future benedict will receive his commission in the U. S. Navy on June 15 and report July 1 to the Great Lakes Training Center. While Ensign Cook is assigned there, the couple will make their home in Chicago.

New Orders For John

Airman John J. Keppelman, reported last week to have been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Texas, has received new orders and is now en route to Dover, Delaware. His mother, Mrs. Jeanette Keppelman of Rancho Rio Vista, says that he will visit his uncle and aunt, the Arthur D. Keppelmans, in Essex Fells, New Jersey, until he locates a house for himself and his wife, the former Barbara Lekisch of Mill Valley.

Visitors At The Douds

Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, now a resident of Terra Linda in the San Francisco Bay Area, is here with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Doud, and is enjoying seeing old friends and family, including her son, Bill Brown, and his wife, Carol. Happily, her visit coincided with that of her granddaughter, Mrs. Jean Saint-Fort Paillard (Peggy Doud Archer), who came from her Paris home for the graduation of her son, Shreve MacLaren Archer III, from Robert Louis Stevenson School. The RLS graduate, better known as Mac, leaves tomorrow with his mother to spend two months in France with her.

A Celebration In Nebraska

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Roeder will be in Lincoln, Nebraska, this weekend to join family members in celebrating the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mrs. Roeder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown, who were married in Lincoln. Among the guests at the Sunday reception will be more than 20 people who attended the Browns' wedding 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who now spend about six months of the year in Carmel, will be here to attend the marriage of their granddaughter, Jeanie Roeder, to F. Allen Harris on June 25.

A New Professor

David Wayne Greenfield, who will receive his Ph.D. degree in ichthyology from the University of Washington Saturday, has accepted a position as assistant professor of zoology at the California State College at Fullerton. His father, Wayne Greenfield, assistant superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, and his mother will travel to Seattle to witness the award ceremonies with David's wife, Gildi.

While a senior at Monterey High School, David was student body president during the fall term. Also at Monterey High and Monterey Peninsula College, he was a member of the swimming team. He received his A.B. degree in zoology at Humboldt State College before enrolling at the University of Washington for advanced study.

A gifted scholar, he received the Stoye Award for the best student paper at the June, 1964, meeting of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists; Karl P. Schmidt Research Grant from the Chicago Natural History Museum; a research grant from the Society of Sigma Xi; and a graduate school fellowship from the University of Washington. David is a member of Sigma Xi, the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists, American Institute of Biological Sciences and the Society for the Study of Evolution.

Better Late Than Never

When Marcia McGinnis returned home last week, she was greatly amused to find a notice that she had been named to the dean's list at San Jose State College — she graduated from that school in June, 1965. Still, she feels, it's nice to know the alma mater does let one know, even a year late. A talented young lady who can count among her honors a year as a guest editor of Mademoiselle magazine, Marcia has been a scholarship student at Yale University this past year. One of her latest accomplishments was redesigning the Yale Law Journal. She'll return to Yale in the Fall, again on scholarship, to continue her studies in graphic design.

Right now, she's enjoying being here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McGinnis. Though Marcia intends to work this summer, she will also design and coordinate, with Joan Snow, the decorations for the Monterey County Fair.

are in contradiction to the atmosphere and color and gaiety which prevailed during the luncheon and entertainment in Memory Garden, where distinguished residents and visiting guests were honored by hundreds attending the event.

New Mothers' Club Officers

Mrs. Mary Mahoney was installed as the new president of the Junipero Serra School Mothers' Club at a luncheon meeting on June 2. Other members taking office were Mrs. Dedee Gregory, vice president; Mrs. Babs Rudzis, secretary; Mrs. Shirley Lemos, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Hudson and Mrs. Janet Price were elected to the board of directors.

Wendy Rose Is Her Name

May 24 was a great day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. George Silkworth, who became first-time parents with the birth of a daughter, Wendy Rose. Wendy, born at Community Hospital, is the granddaughter of Mrs. George A. Silkworth of Oakland and of Mrs. Harold Leddy of Bronxville, New York.

A one-man exhibition by Peninsula painter William Rabinovitch opened on Monday at the American Federation of Arts Gallery. Mr. Rabinovitch was one of three winners of the second annual competitive exhibition, "Monterey County Painting—1965," sponsored by the Peninsula chapter of the AFA last October. Alfred Frankenstein, art editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, judged the show and awarded the additional prize of this one-man show to William Rabinovitch. His paintings will be on display through June 30. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

The Rabinovitch show will be followed, in July, by an exhibition of paintings by Catherine and George Seideneck, both of whom have been associated with the development of the artistic life of Carmel for many years.

On June 16, a color slide program, "The Advance of Art and Architecture in old Mesopotamia and Persia," will be presented by Mrs. Walter Jennings under the auspices of the AFA chapter. Members will be admitted free. A charge of $1 will be made for non-members.

Kurt von Meier now writes Los Angeles Letter, the section of the monthly publication, "Art International," devoted to Southern California. This magazine also covers art events in Germany, Italy, France, Switzerland and England as well as the Eastern United States. It is published in Lugano, Switzerland.

Kurt, the son of Mrs. Dorothy von Meier, received his elementary and high school education in Carmel before studying at the University of California in Berkeley, the University of Madrid and Princeton University. He is at present assistant director of the Dickson Art Center at the University of California in Los Angeles, also teaches two art history courses.

Kurt was granted a master's degree from Princeton in the field of art history and this spring Princeton awarded him a Ph.D. degree for which he submitted a thesis on the famous German sculptor, George Kolb.

Oil and watercolor seascapes and landscapes, also mosaics, wall hangings, driftwood carvings and weaving, all the creative work of members of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, are being displayed in the second Arts and Crafts Show at the clubhouse.

The inaugural show last year was the most popular activity ever scheduled at the club. Over 500 persons viewed the exhibition.

This year's show was opened at the regular dinner dance on Sunday night and will close on June 12 with a similar event. Mrs. John A. (Grace) O'Brien, general chairman for the show, announces a considerable increase in exhibitors over last year's total of 45 persons. Walter Rowland again was in charge of hanging pictures and the display of other entries. Mrs. Leon H. (Natalie) Woolsey designed posters advertising the show, also the program cover.

Featuring a $1,000 Purchase Award, as well as other cash prizes, the 12th Annual All California Art Exhibit is co-sponsored by the 31st Annual Festival of Arts and the Laguna Beach Art Association, in whose galleries the show will be displayed.

Artists of northern as well as southern California have until June 27 to enter this outstanding fine arts event. Members of the jury of selection are well-known art historian and lecturer Richard Cassidy, artist-teacher Ralph Hulett, and artist-instructor Robert Frame.

Until July 3, paintings by William H. Clapp are on exhibit at the Laky Galleries on San Carlos Street. Two of these impressionistic studies are on loan from the Oakland Art Museum of which Mr. Clapp was curator until he retired, after 36 years' service, shortly before his death in 1954.

Born in Montreal, Canada, of American parents, William H. Clapp was taken to Oakland at an early age and received his education there. He later studied at the Montreal Art School in Canada; Academie Julian, Academie Colarossi and Ecole de la Grande Chaumiere in Paris; and the Prado in Madrid. In France he exhibited at various salons including the Salon d'Automne.

On his return from Europe, he stayed briefly in Montreal where he won major awards and was elected a member of the Royal Canadian Academy. He also spent two years in Cuba until becoming curator of the Oakland museum in 1918.

William H. Clapp was a member of "The Society of Six," a group of artists who worked in Impressionistic, Post Impressionist and Fauves styles. His vital American Impressionistic canvases are included in the Dominion of Canada's permanent collection, the Oakland Museum collection and many private collections. He termed his later style "Visualism."

A unique series of drawings by George Luks is currently on display at the Galerie de Tours.

Luks, who was a leading light in the famed Ash Can School, was employed for a time by the Philadelphia "Press", and in the capacity of illustrator for that paper would race to mine disaster, tenement fire or other scenes newsworthy enough for press mention, and make on the spot illustrations.

This endowed Luks with a lusty feeling for the underprivileged and the man in the street. His eye developed the sharp focus so necessary for his inquiring mind when it sought out the essential human make-up of any subject when he became a painter.

In 1905 he made good his boast that he could paint with a shoe-string dipped in lard. This bold wager produced the frowzy "Old Duchess" now to be seen in the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

In 1907 Luks was among the exalted company who were rejected by the National Academy. The following year Robert Henri organized the works of artists he most admired into a small exhibition, and Luks "Old Duchess" was included in the presentation.

The Laky Galleries announces the opening of an associated school of art in Carmel.

A painting class for adults, both advanced and beginning students will start at 10 a.m. on June 20 and will be held in the new school studios above the Laky Galleries showrooms on San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth.

The first class will meet once a week for a three-hour session (10 a.m.—1 p.m.) every Monday for a period of 16 weeks.

George DeGroat, whose one-man exhibition at the Laky Galleries recently ended, will be the instructor. Classes will be limited to 20 students, so that each student may receive maximum individual attention.

In announcing these classes, Les Laky said, "The opening of these classes in our new school is the start of a program which will be expanded to include drawing classes, seminars, with particular emphasis on students from out of state, visiting lecturers, demonstrations, and student exhibitions."

Registration for The Laky School of Art is now in progress at the Laky Galleries daily from 11 a.m. through 5 p.m. and on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Mr. DeGroat will be at the Laky Galleries for several days during the registration period so that prospective students may discuss the classes and their work with him. It is suggested that these prospective students bring one painting and one drawing with them as examples of their work.

The California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland invites interested persons to visit its campus and view art works in many media at its 59th annual open house this weekend. Watercolors, oils, prints, ceramics, jewelry, sculpture, cast metal pieces, weaving and other examples of the textile arts will be included in an exhibition which will be open from noon to 8 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m.—8 p.m. on Sunday.

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS ON NEW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE "CHURCH CENTER"

First stages of land clearance were initiated June 6 for the expanded 15-acre headquarters of Christian Science, as members gathered from around the world for their Annual Meeting in "The Mother Church," shown in the center of this planning model. New details in the plan by I. M. Pei & Associates call for a block-long reflecting pool covering an underground garage, a 26-story Church Administration Building (lower right, scheduled for completion in 1969), and more space for auxiliary facilities in the long colonnaded building extending to the right of the original church. Also pictured are the existing Publishing House and proposed new apartment buildings surrounding the Center.

Erwin D. Canham became the new president of the Christian Science Church on June 6, as members from around the world convened in Boston for their Centennial-Year annual meeting.

Simultaneously, construction workers one block away were beginning land clearance for the religion's dramatic new expansion of its headquarters area, known as The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

These were the climactic events in this year's observance of the 100th anniversary of the beginnings of Christian Science under the leadership of Mary Baker Eddy in 1866.

To the annual meeting, it brought the biggest attendance in the Church's history, flowing over into the adjacent Civic Auditorium and a nearby theater, where the proceedings were carried on closed-circuit television. An estimated 15,000 people were on hand.

Mr. Canham, who is a well-known journalist and Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, will serve as President for one year while continuing his Monitor duties. He came to the meeting directly from a major world speaking tour, which he will resume next September in Europe.

A message to the meeting from The Christian Science Board of Directors noted the "radical changes" taking place in humanity's thinking about "the nature of Deity and God's relation to men."

Several new steps to improve the church organization and prepare it for "the challenges which lie ahead," were noted by the directors, as well as in reports to the meeting from different church departments.

Two of the most important innovations mentioned were a new International Department and a new Youth Division for better coordination of the Church's growing operations in these areas.

Structure changes have already added four stories to the proposed height of the new Church Administration Building announced last year as part of the expanded 15-acre "Church Center" now under construction.

The detailed plans call for a 26-story building and other facilities at a cost of more than $8,000,000, with extensive private development on surrounding church-owned land.

The Church's treasurer's report to the annual meeting noted the establishment of a "Church Center Building Fund," but added that "no specific financial goal has been set, no personal solicitation is to be made." Contributions are to be kept on a voluntary basis out of "each member's gratitude."

Other events in connection with the Centennial this year included the publication a few weeks ago of a 100-year report on the Church's spiritual healing experience, titled "A Century of Christian Science Healing"; and a recent ceremony at the Smithsonian Institution accepting a privately-donated marble bust of Mary Baker Eddy into the National Portrait Gallery. A tribute from Gallery officials stated that "as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy has earned such recognition" among those who have made "a significant contribution to the lives of their fellow citizens."

Carmel High Twelve Honors Civic Leaders

The Carmel High Twelve Club devoted its Monday meeting this week to recognition of Carmel's civic leaders, inviting all city councilmen, department chiefs and the city clerk. Guests who enjoyed the club's hospitality were Councilmen Herbert Blanks, Eben Whittlesey and William Sefton, Fire Chief Robert Baker and Police Chief Clyde Klaumann. Mayor Stephen Grant and Councilman Gunnar Norberg were unable to attend.

Carl Patnude, program chairman for the meeting, introduced guest speaker Edward Whitaker, realtor, Pacific Grove councilman and a director of The League of California Cities. Mr. Whitaker, whose subject was "Municipal Government and The League of California Cities," concluded his address with this prayer:

"Lord, bless now the council members of this city. Grant us greater wisdom than Solomon, greater patience than Job, greater strength than Samson and greater courage than Daniel.

"Help us to accept the assessed valuations as determined by our Assessor; help us grant all city departments the full amount of their requested annual budgets; help us give employment to all who are out of work, and pay prevailing wages.

"Help us build and repair all city streets and provide all the municipal services requested by our constituents, and without special tax or fee; help us give an abundant amount for all public requests, and after doing all these things, help us reduce the general tax rate.

"We do not complain of our duties. We asked for them and we got them, but there are times when we need outside help, and need it badly.

"And, then, when our term of office is through, when we have given our utmost to the service of the people—Or at any time when the chips are down—give us the strength to stand up and take the criticism of those who have never lifted a finger for our city.

... Amen"

Councilman Eben Whittlesey offered an addition to this prayer for Carmel, "and please, God, let us build a fence around Carmel!"

Party Plans

By Phyllis Jervey

With the memory of Monterey's Merienda still vivid, let's look at the fiesta which followed on Sunday. This party celebrated the founding of the Royal Presidio Chapel in Monterey. Now San Carlos Catholic Church, it is Monterey's oldest building. But it wasn't until 1962 that the chapel was declared a national historical landmark. Of outstanding significance in the churchyard is the trunk of the old oak tree under which mass was said at Vizcaino's landing in 1602 and later when Father Junipero Serra landed in 1770.

Sunday's fiesta was a religious celebration of Monterey's founding 196 years ago. The chicken barbecue and bazaar which followed mass were both a huge success. Though not giving you the exact recipes for this barbecue, we won't disappoint you either.

From the San Carlos Parents Club comes the new cook book "Table Treasures" containing some real treasures indeed. These are not all "Under Three Flags" dishes but are a mixture of old and new Monterey favorites. Party Plans has arranged an al fresco midday or evening meal taken from "Table Treasures" for your pleasure.

These Meat Balls Have A Secret

If you're mad about chiles rellenos, you'll guess the secret right away. Canned green chili peppers stuffed with cheese are the heart and soul of these meat balls. The good lean ground western beef, beautifully seasoned and moistened with wine, becomes the big star of the dinner party. Your imaginative use of every day ground beef will put you in a special league with your guests.

Chili Stuffed Beef Balls

|----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1½ pounds ground lean beef | 12 (½-inch) cubes Cheddar cheese |
| 1½ teaspoons seasoned salt | Cooking oil |
| Dry white dinner wine | 1 (10½-ounce) can bouillon |
| ¾ cup soft bread crumbs | 3 tablespoons chili sauce |
| ¾ cup finely chopped green onion | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| 1 (4-ounce) can green chilies | 2 tablespoons water |

Combine beef with salt, ½ cup wine, bread crumbs and onion. Divide into 12 portions. Cut chilies into 12 lengths and wrap 1 piece around each cheese cube. Shape beef into balls with chili and cheese in center of each. Brown in hot oil. Drain off excess fat. Add bouillon and ¾ cup wine. Simmer about 15 minutes basting now and then with pan sauce. Stir in chili sauce. Thicken pan sauce with cornstarch mixed with water. Makes 6 servings.

SENIOR PICO'S GUACAMOLE

(Serves 6)

Two medium avocados, peeled; 1 large tomato, peeled and finely chopped; 1 tsp. finely chopped white onion; 2 tbsps. bottled French dressing; 1 tsp. hot green chilies, finely chopped; ½ tsp. snipped Chinese parsley, called cilantro or coriander; 1 dash red pepper sauce; juice of half a lime; salt, pepper and "Mai Kai" seasoning to taste.

Break up avocado with sliver fork and blend with other ingredients until avocado is almost smooth but still retains some of its original consistency. Serve with tostado chips or pieces of crisp-fried tortillas. Good with any drink

LEMON BARBECUED CHICKEN

(Serves 6)

Two cut-up fryers; 1 clove garlic, mashed with ¼ tsp. salt; ¼ cup salad oil; 1 cup fresh lemon juice; 2 tbsps. instant onion; 1 tsp. black pepper; 2 tps. Worcestershire sauce.

Barbecue chicken in your favorite manner using above sauce to baste freely. A good job for the children — with supervision — as chickens must be cooked through. (Mrs. James McGuire)

EMPANADAS DE FRIJOLES

(Bean Turnovers)

Use any good pie pastry recipe. Roll thin and cut in 3 inch circles. Fill with a teaspoon of the mixture below, fold in half and moisten the edges with water and press them with a fork. Cook in a 400 F. oven for about 15 minutes.

To make bean mixture, melt 1 tbsp. butter, add 2 cups cooked beans with ¼ cup bean liquid. Mash them as they cook while absorbing the butter, then add ¼ tsp. salt and a dash each of powdered cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves; stir about 5 minutes, being careful that the mixture doesn't scorch. This paste should be made in advance, for it must be cool when sealed into the pastry rounds before baking them. Another filling that was popular in the days of the ranchos was one made of cooked pumpkin seasoned with sugar and spices.

(Ave Marie Convent Franciscan Sisters)

GOLDEN COLE SLAW

(Serves 6)

One head shredded or diced cabbage (very young and green is best); 1 tsp. sugar; 2 tbsps. sweet pickle relish; salt and pepper; ½ cup crushed drained pineapple;

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

New books this week are good, stalwart, needed, but a little hard to be enthusiastic about in print. Five or six seem worth talking about.

Two of these are on houses. The first one is "BEAUTIFUL HOMES AND GARDENS OF CALIFORNIA" which was written by Herbert Weisskamp. The author has taken certain outstanding California architects and shown their work by photographs and house plans, while giving a short history of each person and how his work developed and changed over the years. Carmel is represented here several times.

Arnold Nicholson did the second book which is entitled "AMERICAN HOUSES IN HISTORY." The oldest frame house in America was inhabited by the family of the builder for eight generations extending over a period of 270 years and is still owned by the same family and used as a museum today. This is the Fairbanks house in Dedham, Massachusetts.

What makes this book particularly interesting is the author's practice of relating incidents about the houses and their owners. Did you know that Thomas Jefferson was not only the person who planned his famous house called Monticello, but he was also the person who planned the gardens and the various additions to the building? He did such elegant entertaining that after his death nothing was left for his descendants but the title to the small family graveyard which adjoined which the soda has been dissolved, flour, vanilla and salt. Beat thoroughly, then add chocolate and hot water. Bake in 375 F. oven for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 F. for 30 minutes longer.

(Franciscan Sisters St. Joseph's Convent)

the estate. His creditors swooped in and gathered up everything else to satisfy his enormous debts. Here also is an account and photographs of the House of Seven Gables of literary fame, and many, many more.

The next book is one everyone should read. Called "TWENTY DAYS" and written by Dorothy and Phillip Kunhardt, it covers the 20 days between the evening when Lincoln was shot in Ford's Theatre until his burial in Springfield, Illinois. There are over 300 photographs, many of which were never reproduced before. This book is so fascinating that it seems impossible to turn away from it to write this annotation. It is a book to be read with complete absorption and in a quiet place.

On the lighter side, we have "THE FAT AND SODIUM CONTROL COOKBOOK" by Payne and Callahan. This is a serious book for it gives authoritative information with recipes, charts, and calorie counts galore. Many people need this book to help them toward palatable food while keeping within their restricted diets. Here it is.

An interesting biography is the new one entitled "HOWARD HUGHES" which was written by John Keats. The elusive Mr. Hughes is here from birth until the present day. Books like this are interesting—to a great many people—but not to me. So here it is, you read it.

Did you see the ghastly news this week that "WINNIE THE POOH" is being rewritten and simplified so that young children will enjoy it? This is enough to shake your faith in the progress of the English speaking peoples. In its original form delightful old Pooh was perfectly comprehensible to a child of two. Before that they should be read the Bible, and after that, too. But never either in a simplified version.

Sophie Keller

Mrs. Sophie Hammond Keller, 83, died May 31 in a local hospital after a period of failing health.

A resident of Carmel for the past 29 years, she was born in Helena, Texas, on June 15, 1882. With her husband and sole survivor, Dr. Hubert W. Keller, she made her home on San Carlos between 13th and Santa Lucia.

Services for Mrs. Keller were held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, with the Reverend Richard Thompson of St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church officiating.

Private inurnment followed. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Beverage License Fees For Carmel

The city of Carmel has received $6,930 as its six-month share of the special fees paid by holders of alcoholic beverage licenses.

The payment was made by the state's department of alcoholic beverage control which allocates 90% of all license fee money back to individual cities and counties where it is used to offset the cost of police and fire protection, schools, highways, hospitals and other government services. The remaining 10% goes into the state's general fund where it is used for similar purposes.

The most recent payment was for the six-month period ending February 28, 1966. Monterey County as a whole, including the unincorporated area, received $100,239 for the period.

A package store beer and wine license costs the owner $37 with a yearly renewal fee of $12. A general on-sale tavern license costs $6,580 originally, with an annual renewal fee of $580, while a beer and wine only tavern license costs $234, renewable yearly for $84.

Once a flickering flame

Gas utility service—as an American industry—is now 150 years old.

In its youth it was just a gas light. It has grown to serve vast fuel and energy needs of a robust, mushrooming nation.

And for you? Is the warmth your family enjoys gas heat? Is that breath of cool, fresh air on a scorching day from gas air conditioning?

Did you bake, boil or barbecue faster and easier today with natural gas?

Was the hot water for your dishes, baths and washing heated with gas?

Let's go to industry: Have you ever seen a massive steam boiler fired by gas? Or watched a natural gas torch slice through 16 inches of steel like so much suds in a sink?

Or, for that matter, did you realize that natural gas is one of the prime fuels for generating the electricity you use daily?

That's just part of what 150 years of growing young looks like; something very tangible, very vital.

You and millions of other Californians—at home and in industry—seem to agree, because for PG&E customer service today, that once flickering flame is...

Now, 3 billion cubic feet of natural gas a day

Life Of Meteorologist Not Tame Pine Cone Weather Man Observes

On the front page of the Pine Cone, there appears each week a weather report. This prediction of what resident and visitors may expect from the elements is prepared by meteorologist Robert G. Read, a former officer in the U. S. Navy who is now on leave of absence from the position of associate professor in the department of meteorology at San Jose State College.

Is the life of a meteorologist tame? Hardly, if this scientist's experiences are typical. In one, he undertook a research project for the U. S. Army to examine the micro-meteorological environment of the tropical forest during the rainy season of 1965 in the Panama Canal Zone.

While engaged in this, Mr. Read was able to get some firsthand knowledge of how the human body reacts under stress to such a hostile environment. He felt it was a privilege, he says, to undergo the course of instruction of the U. S. Air Force Tropical Survival School, a part of which included being dropped by helicopter into a dense tropical jungle of uncertain location, without food or water, to survive as best one could and to find the way back to civilization.

Along with ten other men, he ate snakes, lizards, birds and any edible vegetation they could find to keep alive. Everything was cooked as a stew to get the last bit of energy out of whatever food they had. Mr. Read says, "I didn't mind eating snakes or lizards but had to force myself to drink the water out of jungle streams which tasted horrible with the iodine tablets used to purify it."

"From the standpoint of a meteorologist," he remarks, "I am afraid I destroyed the preconceived opinion that I had of the jungle always being hot, sticky, and uncomfortable. This was not the case—my most critical problem was staying warm, even though the daily temperature range was 74 to 87 degrees. At night I actually shuddered so violently that my whole body shook uncontrollably and sleeping was difficult. When the temperature falls to 74 at night and one cannot move around too much without getting into very painful thorns and spines, one can feel a body sensation of downright frigidity because of the high humidities one encounters."

Mr. Read noted another interesting aspect of the heat regulating mechanism of the body, which was the range of comfort one may experience during the day, when man does most of his work.

"You learn quickly," he says, "that to remain inactive and dry means comfort, the least bit of exertion, discomfort. You perspire very freely, clothing becomes wet—you breathe heavily and your heart beats rapidly."

This is insidious, Mr. Read stresses, because "you know that if you are to survive it is imperative to have shelter, fire and food... That it is necessary to clear away an area to permit signaling to be seen." Starting to work, he says, one immediately becomes weary; lassitude grips one; one rests, and a little more of the time left for survival slips away. "You work on again and you become exhausted, sick to your stomach," he points out.

On the fourth day, Mr. Read and his group worked their way down a mountain slope under a jungle canopy of trees which permitted limited visibilities to the Chagres River, main water supply for Gatun Lake and the Panama Canal. "Evading 'hostile Indians' and using an underarm life preserver as a vehicle," he relates, "I shot the rapids of the Chagres for six hours." In a modest understatement, the meteorologist adds, "It was a very exciting trip." The group finally reached Madden Lake, where they were picked up for another phase of escape and invasion.

When Mr. Read was asked if he would like to go back into the jungle for additional research, he replied, "Yes, indeed! I found the tropical forest to be a fascinating place to work and I would very much like to explore the microclimate of the tropical forest during the dry season."

Mr. Read and his wife, Amy, presently live in Carmel Valley. They have six children, Michael, Terrie, Patrick, Leslie and twins, Sam and Sidney.

Other officers of the new group include Dr. Paul Hood, Carmel, vice-president; Mrs. Jane S. Silvertsen, Carmel, secretary; Dale C. Michael, Pebble Beach, treasurer; and Dr. Bruno Klopfer, Carmel, representative-at-large.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

Are mutual funds any good? Are they too risky? Do they cost too much? What can they give me that I don't already have?

One of the best ways to answer these questions is to ask yourself, "Is my money doing more for me where it is?"

The mutual funds are run by professionals and professionals are tough for amateurs to beat in any field. Lots of people who want capital gains find that their money didn't increase as fast in the last ten years as the average growth fund (196%) to say nothing of the leaders like Fidelity Trend, which increased 296%, and Dryfus whose rise was 351%. So in the last decade your money had to better than triple while you spent your cash dividends to beat these professionals.

Many people interested in income find their money didn't increase even as much as the average mutual fund with a growth plus income objective (145%), and the leader of this group of funds, Investment Company of America, increased in value 203.7% since 1956. These figures assume capital gains reinvested; but dividends were received in cash. Also many people find that a 6% withdrawal received in monthly checks eliminates bookkeeping, depositing, and concern about whether you have the right stocks.

I often hear people say "Yes, but I can't afford to risk my savings

What's Going on Here?

BY B. ROWE

If one can judge by the programs published by the various Senior Citizens communities in our area, we most certainly agree with a recent sage who quoted "LIFE BEGINS AT 65."

Retirement can be fun—and the Seniors I have met are quite aware of the new "Patterns For Living" and are finding contentment and enjoyment therein. Really, there is never a dull moment—from dawn till dark something interesting is on the agenda.

To prove our point, take a look-see:

in stocks, they might go down." That, my friend, is their very advantage: they fluctuate. How about the risk of having too much money where the value is fixed? Can you afford to have inflation eating away at all your savings? The purchasing power of the dollar, you know, has been in a long term downward trend since records have been kept. So it is a fact that money in bonds, cash, fixed interest, insurance or savings, is at a risk . . . the risk of loss of buying power of your dollars.

It is also a fact that money invested in stocks might go down in value in periods of business declines even though the long range trend of stocks has been up.

The fact that you and I aren't billionaires indicates among other things that we aren't perfect at predicting the future; so we better have some money in fixed investments and some fluctuating so our financial security won't be affected no matter which way "the cat jumps".

PIN POINT PROFILE

One of the interesting people I contacted this week was Mrs. Inice M. Dunning of Forest Hill Manor, a dedicated music teacher of some years ago. Her early life was spent as a pioneer in Iowa and Kansas—after surviving many hardships and sometimes health problems, the use of sassafras tea and bags of assafoetida worn about one's neck soon made recovery complete.

As a school teacher she recalls her first contract paid her the sum of $25.00 per month.

Her philosophy of living is priceless: "I am glad that luxury was never of such vital importance to me that I could not find happiness in simple things. I am also glad that simple activities had charm for me, and that I could appreciate the congenial friendships and pleasant associations which are the most vital part of a full life."

'The Gazebo' Opens At Circle Tomorrow

Dick Bird, Peggy Chandler and Dick Vreeland have major roles in Alex Coppel's hilarious chiller, "The Gazebo," opening tomorrow at the Circle under the auspices of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula. Expert support is provided by Derek Lawford, Sally Richmond, Maggie Dalton, James Marquardt, Patrick Reilly, Clancy Gehrke, Michael Dalton and Gene Ford in other roles.

Carol McPhee has designed the production, which will have special lighting effects by William Lewis, properties by Marguerite VanHorn, and sound by Charles Richmond.

"The Gazebo" will have a seven week run on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock.

"CARMEL CHARM": WE DEFINE OUR TERMS

CHARM: To attract irresistibly; bewitch; enchant. To influence the senses by some quality as beauty; to delight; to be pleasing or fascinating; to influence by magic power. (Funk and Wagnalls)
CARMEL: Primarily a place name, but not necessarily limited to a town, sometimes defined as a disease contracted by people who seek pleasant and beautiful surroundings; sometimes, a way of life. (L.R.)

THIS LITTLE POST ADOBE QUALIFIES! Built by Comstock, it's the kind of charmer everyone wants. The construction, the shake roof, the park-like setting, with charm which includes floors of brick, hardwood and tile, exposed adobe walls, garden views from interesting windows and all the many unexpected and nice little details which come under the definition of charm. The fact that it is in a lovely residential area completes its attraction. The price is only $37,500, which is charming, too. Adjoining lot available, too.

AND WE'VE JUST LISTED ANOTHER CHARMER a few level walking blocks from the Village, a delightful rambling older home with 4 bedrooms and 3 baths or 3 bedrooms and a maid's room or 2 bedrooms and 2 studios or however YOU would like to use it. Two fireplaces, one in the large entry hall. Dining room has glass doors to a flower-filled patio. Extra outside room for a studio or storeroom. And the whole thing is surrounded with a gorgeous trumpet vine and fuchsias and TREES! And it's beautifully maintained. And this one is only $38,000, with excellent financing.

Council Named In Legal Action

In the meantime, the council by "wriggling around in the law" as Mr. Norberg dubbed it, left the way open for a possible sale of the police station site by passing, by a 3-2 vote, a motion proposed by Councilman Herbert Blanks.

This action abandoned bidding procedure but instructed the city clerk to explore all available means, except realtors, to accomplish the sale of the police station site and enter into negotiations with any prospective buyer—with final terms of the sale subject to the approval of the city council by a 3-2 vote. Mr. Blanks' motion stated that "it be clearly understood that the sale is for common benefit and public interest and convenience" as specified under two particular sections of the state government code.

Mr. Norberg contended that this motion was "illegal and a devious, doubtful and dangerous alternative". He reiterated his statements, made at the May council meeting, that because a protest had been made by Mr. Segal against the sale of the police station site, all subsequent action on the sale should have required a 4-1 vote of the council, not the "switch" made last month, after the April election, to a 3-2 vote.

He reiterated statements made at the prior meeting to the effect that the financing of the new police and public works facilities should have been put to the electorate for approval of either a bond issue or an override tax. He related a conversation with Richard Carpenter, executive director of the League of California Cities, after a meeting of the Mayors' and Councilmen's Institute of the league last month in Monterey. Mr. Carpenter, he reported, had said "Then you don't have to go to jail" when Mr. Norberg told him he had voted against the financing of the Phase I civic center construction previously approved by Mayor Grant and Councilmen Blanks and Eben Whittlesey. He emphasized that one discussion at the institute caused him to believe that the majority council vote on the financing was "in violation of the state constitution."

Mr. Norberg said the basis of financing the construction on $300,000 uncommitted funds was "highly suspect." He then repeated prior statements to the effect that voters, in 1964, had thought they were approving civic center uses at Sunset Center as well as cultural and community uses.

At this point Mr. Whittlesey called a point of order. Mr. Norberg's remarks were not "germane to the motion" before the council, that of new procedure for the sale of the police station, but referred to past action, he declared.

"The point is well taken," said Mayor Grant and the vote was called with Mr. Sefton and Mr. Norberg voting against it.

Following the vote, Patricia Lane, attorney for Mr. Segal, warned the council that it was unwise to take such action before the hearing on June 17 on Mr. Segal's alternative writ of mandate.

"We are in a position to show cause to adequately meet the legal objection," Mr. Whittlesey replied.

"That's not true," said Mr. Norberg. He added that there ought properly to be means under state law by which a minority group of a civic body could retain counsel. Legal recourse, he stressed, should be available to minority as well as majority members of a governing body. He moved to rescind the motion on the new sale procedure for the police station. Mr. Sefton seconded the motion. It was defeated by a 3-2 vote.

Mr. Whittlesey observed that further argument would serve no purpose, the council had voted to follow different procedure on the sale in accordance with 3-2 votes, also the accordance of the city attorney.

A letter protesting the sale of the police station site, from the Carmel Business Association, was read to the council. The objection, based on a parking and traffic survey made in 1962, was that by using the Junipero site for a new police station and selling the present site, the city was removing 49,500 square feet of land "amenable to the development of off-street parking" but that 8,000 square feet of this land could be retained if the Mission and Seventh property was not sold.

The sale of the Mission and Seventh property, at a price of not less than $90,000, was put to bid by a 3-2 vote of the council, as a partial means of financing a new police station and corporation yard on city-owned property at Junipero and Fourth, for which purpose excavation has been done.

At the end of the council meeting, Mr. Norberg informed the council that he had, in a letter to State Senator Fred Farr, sought further legal restraint against the council through action of the state legislature.

His letter states "I feel the city council has substantially exceeded its fiscal powers as defined in Section 18 of Article II of the State Constitution, though our city attorney is unwilling so to rule."

He was referring to the fact that a contract for the excavation of the site, plus a construction contract and "questionable sale of city property" had been approved by the council with financing to be accomplished by annual loan and repayment procedure which Mr. Norberg told Senator Farr could not "be properly fitted into the limitations upon a city council's usual, annual fiscal policy" and was "dubious and precarious."

Mr. Norberg's letter further states, "I believe, and Councilman (William) Sefton believes, the city council majority has not only lost sight of the city's indicated aims, but has also transgressed legal bounds."

Mr. Sefton cosigned the letter with Mr. Norberg. Last night he told other councilmen, "I am opposed to any method (of financing) not on a bonding basis." In May he supported Mr. Norberg's unsuccessful proposal to finance the new police station and public works facility construction by a bond issue approved by voters in a special election.

No council action was taken on Mr. Norberg's letter as he informed the council of his action as a report submitted in his capacity as commissioner of health and safety.

The city council continued last night consideration of moving the city hall to Sunset Center. Consideration will be given to this matter following study by the council's lands and improvements committee.

Approved were Mayor Grant's appointments of Brigadier General Frank Dorn, Mrs. George J. Faul and Donald Teague to the Carmel Arts Commission. Letters of appreciation were authorized to be sent to Mrs. Madeleine Powers Leoni and Mrs. Barbara West who had been filling out unexpired terms on the commission of the late Richard Lofton and Hazel McClennan.

aid Grunsky (R) will run against Fred Farr (D) in the 17th State Senatorial District; Alan Pattee (R) against Irby Bourriague (D) in the 34th State Assembly District.
